

MUST-KNOW STATS FOR INDUSTRIAL DATA CLOUD CUSTOMERS

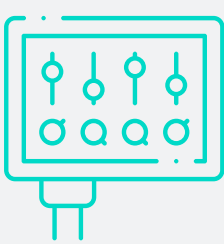

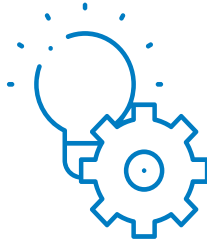

From optimizing production efficiency to enhancing quality control and predictive maintenance, AI revolutionizes the way manufacturing companies utilize their data. Check out some of the latest statistics.

66% of manufacturers that use AI for day-to-day operations are growing more reliant on it.

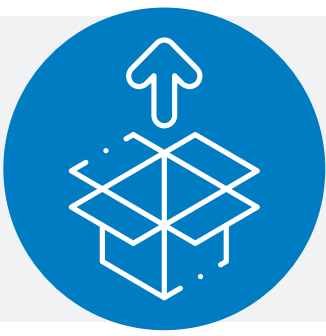

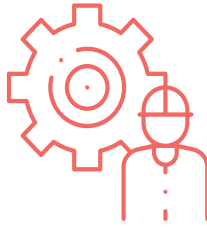

With AI, industrial processing plants increased production by 10 to 15%.

65% of consumers say they'll still trust businesses who use AI.

However, 43% of businesses are concerned about technology dependence.

25% of companies are adopting AI because of labor shortages.

The manufacturing industry is expected to see the largest financial impact due to AI.

40% of companies are turning to AI for inventory management.

30% of companies use AI for accounting assistance and supply chain operations.

As the industry increasingly recognizes the value of harnessing data-driven insights, more manufacturing firms are turning to AI solutions to unlock new opportunities for growth, efficiency, and operational excellence.

Have questions? Our experience in Data Cloud AI makes Simplus a helpful resource for companies like yours to ensure you get the most value from an AI-enabled Salesforce implementation.